

The 2014 AGM is coming to Boston

It's still a long way off (April 3-6, 2014), but the Jaguar Association of New England is already well along in planning a great AGM for 2014. So far, everything is too preliminary to provide details, but we will be staging the event at a hotel convenient to Boston's Logan airport and to the many attractions Boston has to offer. We have a number of ideas for all of the aspects of an AGM: some unusual tech seminar ideas, several options for a terrific Friday event, many possible Saturday activities for non-delegate attendees, and some fabulous guest speaker candidates. We may have more details before the 2012 AGM. We are a large club with many members who are truly excited about hosting JCNA in a grand way. It's sure to be a fine event, so mark your calendars!
